

Choosing Where to Shop

- Some large stores stock thousands of items. Other stores are small and stock just a few specialty items
- You may choose a certain food store because it's near you
- You can shop at different places (eg. discount supermarkets, markets)
- You can compare prices and shop around to find the cheapest items
- You may choose to a cultural food store because they have cultural food items (Young's, Lucky's, Dino's Grocery Mart)
- Store Features
 - What services does the store offer?
 - Are shelves well stocked? Neat and clean?
 - Stores hours convenient to you?
 - Employees helpful, courteous?
 - Does the store stock a variety of foods? Brands? Sizes?
 - Comparable prices to other stores?
 - Are meat and produce fresh? Clean? Properly chilled?
